

Stone soup

A trickster is on his home. He is very hungry.

He begs for food but all the villagers say "I'm sorry. No". The villagers are hiding their food.

The trickster has an idea, a trick to get food!

The trickster tells the villagers "You all look hungry. I will make soup for you, stone soup. It is delicious".

The villagers say "Stone soup? What's that". The trickster answers "You will see. Bring me some stones and a pot".

The trickster put the stones in the pot of water and starts to cook them.

The trickster says "This is good soup but stone soup is better with salt and pepper".

A young boy gets some salt and pepper for the soup. He puts the salt and pepper in the pot.

The trickster says "This is good soup but stone soup is better with some vegetables".

An old woman gets from vegetables. She puts the vegetables in the pot.

The trickster says "This is good soup but stone soup is better with some more vegetables and some meat".

The villagers get more vegetables and some meat and put the vegetables and meat in the pot.

Other villagers bring more vegetables and put the vegetables in the pot.

Soon all the villagers and the trickster are eating stone soup. It is very delicious.
